Experience

As a Program Presenter at Radio Padma, the first community radio station in Bangladesh, I have developed strong communication and time management skills. I am responsible for presenting engaging programs, creating impactful content, and actively interacting with listeners to ensure a positive experience. This role has taught me how to manage multiple tasks efficiently while maintaining a consistent program schedule. Through my work, I've learned to take on responsibilities and gain a deeper understanding of content creation and audience engagement.

Participating in the Bystander Youth Leadership Training program significantly improved my communication skills. The program emphasized leadership, social values, and equities. I gained proficiency in public speaking and presentation techniques, delivering impactful messages. Collaborating with diverse participants enhanced my multitasking and communication abilities, emphasizing the importance of effective communication in teamwork and positive outcomes.
